Pallet Firm Heavily Damaged By Fire Last Wednesday Afternoon

The Elba Pallet Company, located in the Danley's Crossroads Community, was partially destroyed last Wednesday by a fire that battled members of the Elba Fire Department for nearly four hours before being brought under control.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

Maybe things have quieted down at City Hall for a while. For some time last week it seemed the whole world stopped to fight the battle of City Hall. The people down there all seem tired of the debate and have expressed a desire to pull together as a team. Elba has the potential to go forward at any pace we desire, but this team-work is an absolute necessity for any progress at all.

The State legislatures don't get the debate about the sales tax on groceries settled before they jump into the homebased exemption issue. Both the ideas would cut the taxes of the individual who votes but... every dollar lost would have to be replaced from some other source and it would hurt to have something else taxed a little heavier.

Fast action by the Elba Rescue Squad and the Elba Fire Department last Friday night saved the life of a wreck victim. Had they not been able to get the young man out of the car quickly, he would have surely died in the fire that erupted minutes after he was pinned loose and taken unconscious on a stretcher to the ambulance. Again, we all owe a great big thanks to these dedicated neighbors of ours.

Sheriff Neil Grantham invited me along on one of his investigations on Monday of this week. He warned me that there would be a good bit of walking, and brother, it was! We were told it was a two or three-mile walk to our main point of interest, and by the time we arrived, I was sure it was at least three and a half miles to the place, and... the return trip was a good seven miles or more. After all that walking, ye old editor only got some pictures for the high sheriff and not a single one for the readers of the ELBA CLIPPER!

We have a whole bunch of fish pictures in the paper this week, and already some for next week. One batch of fish that didn't make the picture grade was a bunch of catfish. Jake Morrow reported a rare catch from a wire basket he has in Pea River. Jake was the first person to buy a permit to put baskets in the river after it became legal last year. Saturday he checked his basket and with the help of Rann King removed 72 pounds of catfish, ranging in size up to four pounds. A few more trips like this and he will have a basket for sale cheap, 'cause he will not have any place to freeze the fish!

The folks in Washington are now accusing a major oil company of holding back on natural gas. There is no estimate of how much money they spent to reach that conclusion - one that they could have gotten on the streets of Elba weeks ago for free. But the investigators would have had to join the unemployment line, and it is long enough now.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

Maybe things have quieted down at City Hall for a while. For some time last week it seemed the whole world stopped to fight the battle of City Hall. The people down there all seem tired of the debate and have expressed a desire to pull together as a team. Elba has the potential to go forward at any pace we desire, but this team-work is an absolute necessity for any progress at all.

The State legislatures don't get the debate about the sales tax on groceries settled before they jump into the homebased exemption fuss. Both the ideas would cut the taxes of the individual who votes but... every dollar lost would have to be replaced from some other source and it would hurt to have something else taxed a little heavier.

Fast action by the Elba Rescue Squad and the Elba Fire Department last Friday night saved the life of a wreck victim. Had they not been able to get the young man out of the car which he would have surely died in the fire the tragedy minutes after he was pulled loose and taken unconscious on a stretcher to the ambulance. Again, we all owe a great big thanks to these dedicated neighbors of ours.

Sheriff Neil Grantham invited me along on one of his investigations on Monday of this week. He warned me that there would be a good bit of walking, and brother, it was! We were told it was a two or three-mile walk to our main point of interest, and by the time we arrived, I was sure I was at least three and a half miles to the place, and... the return trip was a good seven miles or more. After all that walking, we editor only got some pictures for the high sheriff and not a single one for the readers of the ELBA CLIPPER!

We have a whole bunch of fish pictures in the paper this week, and already some for next week. One batch of fish that didn't make the picture grade was a bunch of catfish. Jake Morrow reported a rare catch from a wire basket he has in Pea River. Jake was the first person to buy a permit to put baskets in the river after it became legal last year. Saturday he checked his basket and with the help of Ram King removed 72 pounds of catfish, ranging in size up to four pounds. A few more trips like this and he will have a basket for sale cheap, "cause he will not have any place to freeze the fish!

The folks in Washington are now accusing a major oil company of holding back on natural gas. There is no estimate of how much money they spent to reach that conclusion - one that they could have gotten on the streets of Elba weeks ago for free. But the investigators would have had to join the unemployment line, and it is long enough now.

Making plans for Industrial Seminar are Jake Bonneau, Board Member and Staples Shearer, Executive Director, of the Alcoholic Council of South Central Alabama. The Seminar is to be held Thursday, March 10, at Enterprise State Junior College in Enterprise.

Jake Bonneau Assists With Seminar Plans

A seminar on "Industry and Labor's Stake in the Alcoholic Employee" is being planned for business and labor leaders, supervisors, personnel managers, and other interested persons.

The Alcoholic Council of South Central Alabama is enthusiastic about the program planned for the Seminar. Those concerned about these problems in business and industry should make every effort to attend this Seminar. An excellent program is planned, and we feel that what you will learn about the costs of alcohol abuse in industry, both in human and financial terms, will be worth your time.

According to Mr. Shearer, "We are making every effort to contact those we feel will be interested in attending the Seminar, but it will be impossible to get in touch with everyone."

GET THE FACTS

Drinking Employees Face Dilemma

When an employer has an employee whose drinking problem is causing him to miss work and is lowering his productivity, he is on the proverbial "horns of a dilemma".

The employee, realizing the stigma which is attached to the alcoholic and fearful for his job, is, needless to say, reluctant to admit the problem. But the boss, also realizing the stigma, is reluctant to admit that his work force might harbor alcoholic employees. What does he do?

He can fire the man, of course, but this will cost him money and possibly a friend. The employee has, on the average, worked for the company for fifteen years, and time and money have gone into his training and experience. This will be lost and the replacement will have to be trained from scratch. Also probably the man, assuming he has been on the job ten or fifteen years, is the employer's friend. Chances are, until recently, the man has been a loyal, trusted worker. What would he do? What would happen to his family?

It's just not that simple to fire him. What is the alternative? The easiest thing to do is probably to ignore him and hope that the problem is a temporary one which will go away. However, statistics indicate that the problem will get worse and more costly in loss of time and decline in productivity.

Fire him or ignore him? Neither solution is a happy one. There is, however, a third alternative. More and more employers are finding that they are in a unique position to help the alcoholic employee to recover. In recent years occupational programs offering help to employees with drinking problems have been more prevalent, and there are today more than 1200 of these programs across the United States.

The Alcoholic Council has information about such programs and is planning a seminar for interested employers.

Cheerleader Spotlight

"It is the dawn of the Age of Aquarius are the words of a song that was popular not too long ago. Here at Zion Chapel, Aquarians are still very popular and one reason could be that they are well represented here at Zion Chapel. One very special Aquarian is blonde, blue-eyed, pinkiey cheerleader, Teresa Lott. She had a birthday last Friday, and she was 17 years old. She is not just an Aquarian in name only, she has all the characteristics of one too. She loves adventure, is always ready to accept a challenge, and likes to complete a job once it is started.

Teresa has been a cheerleader here for one year and before that she was a cheerleader at New Hope. She says about cheering at Z. C., "I enjoy cheering here at Zion Chapel because I'm really behind the boys and I think Zion is the greatest school around." Teresa's other activities at school include 4-H Club, Beta Club, and Assistant Organizations Editor on the REBEL '77 staff.

Totsie Henley Tells Of Events At Pageant

Miss Totsie Henley, Zion Chapel's 176th Campus Beauty, spent January 28-30, 1977 in Montgomery, at the Miss Alabama National Teenager Pageant. Here is her story of three very enjoyable days.

We arrived in Montgomery and checked into the Down-towner Motor Inn. It was a very nice motel and we had a couple of hours after checking in to kind of get things together. At 2:30 p.m. we were supposed to leave to go to the Capital to meet Governor Wallace. The mother of one of my roommates thought that it was 3:00 p.m. instead of 2:30 so we waited. Finally we went out to see if everyone else was ready. They were completely ready, they were already gone. They had left 30 minutes earlier for the Capital. The only thing left to do was to run as fast as we could to try to catch up with them. Running along the street was not what made us look unusual. What made it funny looking was what we were wearing. Our costume was a short (very short) blue satin skirt, a white satin blouse, and a red satin vest. We caught up with the rest just as they were going up the Capital steps. We felt like dummies. After we had toured the Capital, we each had a chance to meet and talk with Governor Wallace. We also had our pictures made with him. This was a very exciting moment for me. Later we stood on the steps of the Capital and sang the Pageant's theme song, "We're Proud of America."

Next we piled into a bus and went to the campus of Huntingdon College to eat and practice. This was also the time to give our speeches on "What's Right About America." It was here that I got to meet Kim Traxler, the 176th Miss Alabama Teenager and Sharon McElarty, the 177th Miss National Teenager. I really had a rewarding experience meeting and having so much fun with these girls and the other girls in the pageant.

After our speeches we went back to the Down-towner where we had a surprise waiting for us. A pizza party. We had furnished our party with every kind of pizza they make. By this time we were exhausted and it was time to go to sleep. The next morning came early because we had a day full of activities ahead of us. There was a small scramble when we got up—our bathroom is not enough for three girls. We went to breakfast and met the real girls—hair curlers and no make-up. After breakfast all I had to do for a while was to wait for my number to come up to be interviewed by the judges. After the interviews we had a luncheon with them but I really don't think that anybody ate anything. Then we were off to Huntington again for rehearsals. Everyone was hungry so we had another lunch. This time everyone was more relaxed and could eat better. It was here that we were given our Miss National Teenager Shirt. Afterwards—more rehearsal!

Next was the final part of the pageant—the Parade of Evening Wear. This was a very tiring and nerve racking part of our stay in Montgomery. When we got back to the motel we had another surprise pizza party. Sunday morning we had a prayer breakfast. At this breakfast we were given several gifts, among them a Miss National Teenager Watch. After breakfast we had a few minutes for final words for those great new friends we made. Then it was off for home. I arrived home just in time to miss my roads and my next day school was closed and I got a day of rest before returning to school.

Basketball Spotlight

If you go to Z.C., you'll know that this culture belongs to a really swell guy. He is Lee Shepard, son of the Reverend and Mrs. Silas Shepard of New Hope. Lee is a basketball athlete and has played 4 years at New Hope is completing his second year at Zion Chapel.

Lee's main interests are football and softball, besides basketball. What Lee likes best about Z.C. is their good basketball coach. Even though the Rebels haven't won many games, he's optimistic about next year. What he most dislikes is having to run sprints in basketball practice.

EDITORIAL

The editors of the Zion Chapel High School News feel that the following poem has a message for every student at Zion Chapel as well as for every person who might read it. It was copied from the Student Press Bulletin.

TELL ME SOMETHING TRUE

Tell me something true. Don't tell me I am only an animal, born to eat and sleep and breed and die, because this isn't true.

Don't tell me I am only a consumer, worth only as much as I can buy, consume and waste, for this isn't true.

Don't tell me I am a statistic, numbered, to be fed into a computer, sorted and stored away in a memory, for it is not true. Tell me something true.

Tell me I am a person, endowed with reason and the ability to think and to learn. This is true.

Tell me I have capacities for individual greatness, courage, fortitude and selflessness. This, too, is true.

Tell me that, within the silence of my own soul I have the ability to master the lower propensities, and to bring into full flower the highest things of all creation, because this is true.

Describe to me the difference between inspiration and desperation, between guidance and happiness, between ideas and silly notions; wants and needs, for between each there is a difference. Tell me something true.

Math Team Places Second

The Elba High School Math team placed second in Class 2A in the eighth annual L.B.W. Mathematics tournament held on February 4.

Math Team Competes In Tournament

The Elba High School math team participated in the 8th annual Mathematics Tournament in Andalusia on Friday, February 4, 1977. This year's tournament was the largest ever held at Lantier B. Wallace Jr. College.

The purpose of the tournament is to recognize outstanding mathematics students and to foster interest in mathematics among students at all levels. The Elba team placed 2nd in overall team competition in Class 2A. The team competition was based on the 40-question written exam and the points scored in ciphering, in which the team members participated.

Team members were Kenneth Bryan, Russ Cash, Leigh Lindsey, and Geoff Parker. Other math students attending were Lisa Turner, Mark Holt, Connie Carpenter, David Head, Phyllis Harrison, Les Lee, Tommy Jernigan, Steven Harrison, Julie Holliday, Johnny Dyess, Mike Hitch, Chuck Mack, Ken Martin, Andy Bulard, Marie Jones, Anita Mobley and Cindy Allen. Sponsors attending were Mrs. Sue Adkinson and Miss Sue Griffin. GEOFF PARKER Historian

Miss Hargrove Seeks For State Office

Miss Beverly Hargrove, vice-president of the Elba High School FFA chapter, will be seeking the office of State Historian in the Alabama FFA Club for 1977-78.

Beverly, along with several representatives from the Elba High School FFA chapter, will be attending the annual state convention in Montevallo on April 1. There Beverly will make her campaign speech and seek her election for the state office.

Monica Towles, the Elba FFA chapter president, will serve as Beverly's campaign manager and will assist her at the convention.

We are proud to have Beverly represent Elba High School and we wish her the best of luck.

FFA Meets

The Elba High FFA Chapter held their monthly meeting on February 10, 1977. Vice-President Beverly Hargrove presented an interesting program on "Teenage Suicide," which was followed by the singing of the FFA song.

President Monica Towles presided over the meeting.

Church News

Coffee Baptists

Set Evangelism

Conference

The Coffee County Baptist Association will hold its annual Evangelism Conference on February 28, 1977, at the First Baptist Church in Elba. There will be two sessions this year: the first, at 3:00 p.m. with Dr. Ray Robbins, Professor of New Testament at New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, leading a Bible study in the Book of Colossians.

The night session will be held at 7:00, with Dr. Robbins and Dr. Don Watterson of the Alabama Baptist Sunday School Department.

The choir of First Baptist Church of Elba will present a special musical program during the night session.

An invitation is extended to all interested persons to attend these meetings.

There will be a Gospel singing at the New Haven Baptist Church this Saturday night, February 26, at 7:30.

The Tenomasters of Bainbridge, Georgia, and The Rainbow Quartet of Elba. Everyone is welcome.

"Say It With Music" At Curtis Baptist

"Say It With Music," a 40-minute motion picture filmed in the Colorado Rockies, will be shown this Saturday night, February 26, at 7:00 at the New Ebenezer Baptist Church at Curtis.

The film takes a look at the changing modes of melody and endeavor to help both youth and adults better understand the impact of modern music on the church community.

Ralph Carmichael, one of America's foremost musicologists, coordinates the illustrative music segments of the film, which also features testimonies of the church's writers and performers.

In addition to the showing of the MUSIC film, the evening's program will include singing by the youth choir, and another short film entitled "Do You Smell Smoke?"

Everyone is invited.

Present for this delightful occasion was her sister, Mary B. Jones, Birmingham. Other family guests included Scotty, Lawless, grandson, Mildred and Robert Killian, Montgomery; Marie and Morland Morgan, Montgomery; John Tyler Morgan, Sr., Ft. Walton; Bobby and Doty Parker and Tiffany. Approximately 60 guests were present.

Another friend stated,

"Mable is interested and concerned about the people around her and tries to be of help to them, both in the spiritual and physical aspects of life. I consider myself fortunate to have her for a friend. She is tried and true. The world could do with more like her."

Betty Adkins, a personal friend of the honoree, stated, "It was through BPW that I came to love and appreciate Mable. I've worked with her now for the last nine years, and in that length of time you get to know a person pretty well. And from knowing Mable, I can truly agree with Emerson when he wrote, 'I didn't find my friends; the good God gave them to me!' Mable is truly a friend to all of us."

PREP BASKETBALL SEASON NEARING END

The high school basketball season may be drawing to a close, but that's fine with me because that means the State tournament is right around the corner.

All four classes begin their Area and Regional tournaments next week, and for the first time in several years there are prohibitive favorites in three of the four classes.

In Class A, Holy Family is everybody's choice to breeze to the title. Holy Family boasts a 21-1 record, but have yet to even play a team in their own class. The boys from Birmingham are led by 6-7 Earl Banks, who is considered one of the "Top 5" players in the state, and return four players from last year's 25-2 squad. One northern Alabama newspaper said Holy Family has the best team in the state in any class. Well, we'll find out pretty soon!

If Holy Family is challenged for the Class A title, the opposition will come from South Alabama's Region 2 and Region 3. In Region 2 are Red Level (18-1), a state tournament semi-finalist last year, and New Brockton (15-6), a team considered by many to be a "Sleeping Giant" waiting to wake up and flex its muscles. These two teams could prove a challenge for anyone. In Region 3 are the powerful Clio Yellowjackets (20-3) and the King Kongs of Rebecca Comer (21-3). The Yellowjackets have the finest shooting team anywhere, and when they are "warm" they're tough, but when they're "hot" they're unbeatable.

Rebecca Comer finished second in the state last year, and has three starters back. The Kongs play a wide-open game and could have the best chance at knocking off Holy Family. In Class 2A the favorite is Montevallo. Montevallo won the state title in '74 and '75 and finished second in 1976. The 2A power returns four starters from last year's squad and have upset Thompson this season.

The only local team with a shot at the Class 2A title is the Headland Rams. The Rams have sped to a 21-2 record and haven't been challenged in quite some time. Last year I told everyone that Headland had the best team in the state, and then had to eat crow when they didn't even make it to state. So, this year I'll simply say Headland has a shot at the Class 2A crown.

Up in Class 3A the overwhelming favorite has to be Thompson. The Warriors won the State title last year starting off 4 juniors and a sophomore, and have lost only twice this year. Thompson lost to 2A Montevallo early in the year, but routed the upstarts by 30 points later in the season. Most sports-writers concede the 3A crown to Thompson in a cake walk.

I really don't feel that any local team will make a serious run at the crown, but the team with the best shot at winning at Tuscaloosa is Eufaula. The Tigers might not even make it to state, but they have a true "chip" concept of basketball and that is what wins state titles. Andalusia has a good chance of going to state, but the Dogs are a one-man team, and I don't think Ricky Knight can score enough points to outscore a state tournament team. Troy also has a shot at the tournament, but they have always been snafu when playing in Tuscaloosa, and don't really have that good a chance at the title. Oh yeah, I almost forgot Elba. Well, you can forget about Elba!

In Class 4A there are several teams with a shot at the crown. Let's see - there is (1) Parker, (2) Johnson, (3) Jones Valley, (4) Selma, (5) Tuskegee, (6) Dothan, (7) Talladega. Oh well, let's just call it a toss-up.

If you've never been to a state tournament, I highly recommend you try to go. I've been there three straight years, and I've already made hotel reservations for this year.

See ya there!

PURVIS WINS FREE THROW CONTEST

Coach Wayne Purvis showed why he is the World Champion Free Throw Shooter last Saturday by hitting 36 of 100 charity losses and winning the Coffee County Heart Fund's Free Throw contest. Purvis defeated four challengers, including Elba's own Wayne Marlier. Marlier was successful on 84 of 100 attempts.

I talked with Purvis last week, and the Coffee Springs coach was extremely confident - no, he was cocky. I guess if I could hit 76 of 100, I'd be cocky, too!

IT'S TIME TO START SOFTBALL

I've been hearing about several local cities who have already begun planning for the upcoming softball season, and I think it's time Elba started getting organized.

Last year Elba's league had a lot of confusion concerning entry fees and umpire's salaries. If the league will get together now, maybe everything can be settled so that the season will go smoothly.

Even the short form is more complicated this year. So to be sure you pay the smallest legitimate tax—it could pay you to see Block. And if switching to the long form will save you money, we'll show you just how much.

Tigers Dump Luverne, Kinston

Elba 63
Luverne 61

Elba's Chip Goosby hit a shot from deep in the corner with only 5 seconds left in the game to lift the Elba Tigers to a 63-61 upset win over Luverne, last Tuesday night in Luverne.

The loss lowered Luverne's record to 16-6.

Elba came out in a full-court press, and prevented Luverne from getting their high-powered offense in gear. The Tiger defense held Luverne to only 12 points in the opening stanza, and after one quarter of play, the score was tied at 12-12.

The Tigers got their offense in gear in the second period and outscored Luverne 18-13 to jump into a 30-25 halftime lead. Luverne outscored the Tigers 13-2 at the start of the second half to grab a 38-32 advantage, but Elba battled back and tied the score early in the fourth period.

Elba had a chance to ice the win late in the game, but missed four free throws. Goosby 41 left the score was tied at 61-61 and Elba went into a stall, playing for the last shot. With 5 seconds left, Goosby hit from the corner and Elba had the win.

Rebecca Comer finished second in the state last year, and has three starters back. The Kongs play a wide-open game and could have the best chance at knocking off Holy Family. ## Griggs And Pickett Honored At TSU Grid Banquet

All-Americans Perry Griggs and Charles Pickett were named the "most valuable players" on Troy State University's 1976 Golf South Conference championship football team at Troy Thursday night.

Fifteen individual awards were presented and lettersman announced at an awards banquet sponsored by the TSU Alumni Association.

Pickett, a senior defensive tackle from Jacksonville, Fla., also received the team's "Head Hunter Award" as the outstanding defensive lineman. He won the Bill Russell Award which is presented annually to the team's premier lineman.

Pickett and Griggs, both members of the all-Golf South Conference team, were named permanent team captains.

Griggs, a senior split end from Lantier, was named to the Kodak College Division All-America team. He concluded his collegiate career with 4,077 yards all-purpose offense and holds eight GSC and 10 TSU records.

Pickett was named to the Associated Press's third-team all-America unit.

Other offensive award winners were senior Gerald Collins of Columbus, Ga.; junior Jimmy Campbell of Dadeville and sophomore Eddie Phillips of Tallahassee.

Collins, a quarterback who amassed 98 yards total offense, won the Striker Award as the team's outstanding offensive back. Campbell, a second-team all-GSC guard, received the "Attacker Award" as the team's highest academic average. Steve Saylor, a senior offensive tackle from Dothan, received the McDonald's Lineman Award.

Cumme and Saylor were also members of the conference's academic team. Senior defensive end Sam Pickett of Enterprise received the team's "Leader Award" from head coach Charlie Bradshaw.

Bradshaw's first TSU team finished with an 8-1-1 record and was ranked sixth in the final NCAA Division II poll. The GSC championship was the third won by a TSU team since the conference was formed in 1971.

Recently retired National Football League referee Tommy Bell addressed an overflowed banquet crowd of 550 in the ballroom of TSU's Ralph Wyatt Adams University Center.

Tucker received the Mickey Hollis Award which is presented to the team's outstanding linebacker. The trophy was named in honor of a late TSU football player. Tucker, another member of the all-GSC team, was also honored a member of the academic all-conference team.

Offensive center Tim Cumme, a pre-dentistry major from Troy, received the Kilpatrick Award for having the team's highest academic average. Steve Saylor, a senior offensive tackle from Dothan, received the McDonald's Lineman Award.

Our goal is $12,700, I already know that we will get our goal. Joe Danley is chairman of our fund-raising drive, and James Farris, Jr. of the Basin Community is president of the Hog Producers' Association. This year, about 35 farmers have taken it upon themselves to help complete the drive. The name of each contributor will be placed on a nice plaque at the facility. We are going to have a lot of names on the Coffee County plaque.

The Green Crop resembles a snap bean closely variety of Seneca Chief sweet corn. It matures in about 65-70 days. It is high in sugar, a good yielder and with a little better salt and pepper it is unbeatable as a sweet corn. Silver Queen is another variety of sweet corn which is white. Seneca Chief is yellow. Try a few rows of these. You might want to make one planting in early March and another planting some time in April to spread out the growing season.

NEMATODE CONTROL
Many small gardeners need to treat their gardens for nematodes. There are some excellent materials available now, both in liquid form and in the granular form which can be put out by hand. One way to treat well they have the animals trained and how beautiful they are.

CHRISTMAS TREES
We hope to have a few extra red cedars and Virginia pines which make beautiful Christmas trees. They can be served well as barriers on lot lines and other areas where a tree is desired.

HOG FUND DRIVE
We have just about reached the half-way mark in our fund-raising drive for the Hog Testing Station and Swine Demonstration facility to be built at Headland. Our agribusiness men and farmers are cooperating beautifully in this project. We would like to get the maximum amount of farmer participation in this project. Farmers will be extremely proud of this facility which should be in operation in six months. With a lot of people cooperating and giving $10 to $25, this much needed program to help growers will be reality.

No Deficiency Payment Made On Cotton

There will be no deficiency payment made to growers of 1976-crop upland cotton. The U. S. Department of Agriculture says the national weighted average price received by producers for upland cotton during the 1976 calendar year was 60.6 cents a pound. Since this is above the target price of 43.50 cents there will be no deficiency payments.

Deficiency payments are made to producers when the average market price received by farmers for upland cotton during the calendar year is less than the established "target" price.

Material Available To Control Pear Fire Blight

Fire blight on pears last year was just disastrous. We have material available which is excellent to control fire blight on pears. If you would like to get some of this material, contact us at the office, and we will get it to you.

Pears should be sprayed when the very first, tiny, green leaves come out and sprayed two or three times. We have directions on the use of the material.

Hot dogs can be frozen for up to two months.

News And Comments On Agriculture In Alabama

By J. Paul Till

A vacant lot where a house once stood. A concrete slab where a car dealership once was located. A few scars remain but the wounds from a devastating killer tornado, about the main thing noticeably different about the city's physical appearance is the newness of it all. The church is new; the city hall is new; many businesses are new and so are many houses. These have been rebuilt since the 1973 storm.

The town looks new and the people have renewed hopes of good things to come, but Mayor Pow says, "If another tornado hits, we might just relocate."
